OUTLOOK

Joe Pierson's Runnin' Red Dragons breeze into the new season as defending State University of New York Athletic Conference Champs and also as kingpins of the New York State Track and Field Association. The Red and White are working on a winning string of 14 straight outdoor duals over three seasons, including wins over University of Buffalo and Ithaca College to date this season.

The bulk of the personnel that led the Monsters through another perfect invitational record on the indoor circuit--Cortland thinclads have won the last 10 invitational indoor meets in which they have entered--are on hand for the out-of-doors, and, although the team isn't as deep as last year's squad, there should still be enough talent on hand to successfully defend the two conference crowns captured a year ago. A number of school and track record holders, including Bob Devins, best trackster ever at Cortland, are back to lead the thrust toward post-season competition. The Fire Breathers have not been without NCAA Meet entrants since Pierson has been coach.

COACH: Joe Pierson is in his fifth year, both at Cortland and as head track coach. He is a 1961 graduate of Southern Illinois University where he competed in the long jump and high jump. He earned his M.S. from S.I.U. in 1965. Upon graduation he taught and coached at Carbondale, Ill., High before accepting a "uniformed civilian" position at West Point where, for three years, he headed up research -- especially pertaining to athletic injuries -- for the Physical Education Department in addition to handling the conditioning programs for the football and basketball teams. He returned to teach at his alma mater for one year before accepting his present post. He is an assistant professor of physical education.

ASSISTANT COACH: Roger Robinson, head Dragon football coach, again will work with long jumpers, triple jumpers, high jumpers and pole vaulters. He is in his eighth year at Cortland and has yet to be associated with a losing Hill team. He is an assistant professor of physical education.

ASSISTANT COACH: Carl Hinkle, in his first year at Cortland, will be working with Dragon runners. He is a graduate of Montana State and has also coached at both Ithaca College and at Cornell while doing graduate work. He is an instructor in the physical education department.
