Challenge Of Change

Through the years, American institutions of higher education have continually expanded their role in response to the nation's need. Since its founding in 1868, State University of New York's College at Cortland has followed this tradition, broadening its role from normal school, to teachers college, to college of education and now to a college of arts and sciences. In keeping with this tradition, "The Challenge of Change" has been chosen as the Centennial theme for the College at Cortland in 1967-68. The College is observing its 100th anniversary throughout the academic year with a full program of special events to commemorate this historic milestone in its development.

A great deal has happened to the College at Cortland in its first hundred years. It has grown from ten faculty members, a handful of students and one building on a five-acre lot to 300 faculty members, 3,600 students and 22 major buildings on a 140 acre campus.

The institution received its state charter in 1868 after residents of Cortland County, seeing a need for higher education in central New York and particularly for providing a means of preparing teachers, joined to establish a school. Local residents raised $100,000 for the launching of the school which was housed in a new building at the site of the present Cortland County Courthouse.

This interest and support on the part of Cortland area residents has continued and flourished. It was evidenced no more clearly than in 1919 when fire destroyed the original building. Within four days the school was in operation again—in rooms made available by churches and civic organizations as well as in some private homes. Four years later, the school reopened its doors under one roof in a new million dollar structure on the present hilltop campus.

Today, the College offers bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees in 35 areas in the arts and sciences; elementary and early secondary education; and health, physical education and recreation. There are also opportunities for teacher certification and master's degree programs are offered in an increasing number.

Cortland's physical development has been stimulated by a $32 million building program between the years 1962 and 1970. Included in a new fine arts center housing the Departments of Art, Music and Speech and Theatre. Sperry Learning Resources Center provides modern technological approaches to learning in sophisticated class room settings and lecture halls. Bowers Hall is being doubled in size to meet the needs of the College's four science departments, Biology, Chemistry, Geology and Physics. And the Library has more than doubled its holdings to more than 160,000 volumes within the last five years.

LACROSSE

COACHES

Varsity: Al Pisano begins his fourth season as head lacrosse coach at Cortland with a 25-9 record and national recognition under his belt. In three years he has moved the Red Dragons to the forefront in college lacrosse, culminated by last season's national ranking of 12th. A 1961 Cortland grad, Al obtained his M.S. from Penn State and taught and coached at Berner High School on Long Island before returning to his alma mater. He also serves as an instructor of physical education and assistant football coach.

Freshman: Bill Tomik is in his ninth year on the Cortland Coaching staff. He is head gymnastics coach and an associate professor of physical education. A 1951 Cortland graduate Bill recently completed all requirements for his Ph.D. from the University of Maryland.

1968 OUTLOOK

The Red Dragons, who finished last season with a superb 12-1 record, are now in a building phase according to Coach Pisano. The Cortland mentor must find replacements for attackmen Rich Felser, the nation's leading scorer last year, and Paul Rose; midfielders Rick Speckman, Al Rhines, Ken Fournier and Al Tepper; defensemen Rocco Damato and Toby Hargreave; and goalies Terry Grace and Vince Daniele. Despite the key losses an excellent nucleus of ten lettermen returns and with any kind of help from the sophomore ranks the Dragon stickmen could be tough on all opponents once again.

Returnees include: Senior attackmen co-captain Harry Blank, the fourth leading scorer in the nation last season with 65 points, and Mike Fudjack; senior midfielders co-captain Tom Acee, Mike Lagasse and Roger Baldwin; junior midfielders Stan Kowalski, an honorable mention All American in 1967, John Molloy, Ken Hahn and Andy Oleski; junior defensemen Mike "Bones" Waldvogel and Stan Holowinski.

Promising sophomores upon which much of Cortland's success may depend this season include: attackmen Ed Schreiber, and Jerry Shore; midfielders Larry Bucchioni, Jim Segovis, Jim Race and Mike Smutock; and defensemen Duane Cheney, Tim Shaddock and Dave Urick. The brightest spot in the sophomore group, however, is goalie Pete Roy who Pisano terms the best goalie Cortland has seen in many years.

Coach Pisano feels that if the Red Dragons are to enjoy any measure of success Blank, Kowalski, Waldvogel and Roy will lead the way and the sophomore talent will have to develop to fill in the gaps.

BASEBALL

COACHES

Varsity: Bob Wallace enters his twelfth campaign as Red Dragon baseball chief never having had a losing season and with four SUNYAC conference titles under his belt. A 1953 Cortland graduate, Wallace was an outstanding quarterback during the "Chugger" Davis era and returned to his alma mater in 1956 to begin coaching and teaching. In addition to his baseball chores he is an assistant football coach and an assistant professor of physical education.

Freshman: Bruce Tarbox, in his first year on the Cortland staff, should be no stranger to Central New York sports fans. He played three years of football at Syracuse and was a starting guard for the Orange in 1959 when they won the national championship. He also spent three years with the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL. He holds B.A. and M.S. degrees from Syracuse and is an instructor of physical education.

1968 OUTLOOK

Coach Wallace looks for 1968 to be the biggest building year in his tenure at the Cortland baseball helm. Graduation all but decimated his pitching staff and his outfield in addition to claiming other valuable personnel at various positions on the squad. Gone are all-conference stars Rick Page, who played the outfield when he wasn't in the pitching rotation, and Paul Fernandez the sure-handed second baseman who hit .225 for the Dragons. In addition the Hillmen will have to do without Joe Mushack and Cal Wheeler, both starters in the outfield, Bob Heintz at first base, top relief pitcher Bob Hildreth and fellow mound ace Joe Chibbaro.

On the bright side of the picture, Al Greenburg the anchor-man of the pitching staff last season will return to try and improve on his 5-3 mark. The team's leading hitter Don Congdon, who posted a .362 average last season, will leave his infield post for a spot in the outfield. Other regulars returning include Harry Kost at second base with a .316 average under his belt, catcher Gary Howe, infielders Randy Alexander and Brian Cory. John Eccleston, Bob Yaris and Bill Ketcham should take up some of the slack in the outfield.

Help is expected from the sophomore ranks in the form of pitcher Fred Bruntrager, who posted a 4-3 frosh record, had a 1.89 E.R.A., and struck out 79 batters in 54 innings. Steve Remington, Ira Rosenthal, Tom Stevens, Ed Gremli, Bill Palmer, Bob Church and Dave Clover could also make the grade in their first varsity go-around.

Wallace sees as his biggest problems replacing both the lost pitching strength and the entire outfield. He feels that his sophs are an unknown quantity but could help against possibly the toughest schedule the team has faced in recent years.

TRACK

COACHES

Head Coach: Joe Pierson is in his second year on the Cortland staff and begins his second campaign as head track coach for the Red Dragons. He is a 1961 graduate of Southern Illinois University and earned his M.S. from S.I.U. in 1965. Joe taught and coached for one year at Carbondale High School in Illinois before joining the physical education staff at the U.S. Military Academy and proceeding to Cortland. He is also indoor track coach and serves as an assistant professor of physical education at Cortland.

Assistant Coaches: Roger Robinson, head Dragon football coach, works with the jumpers on the track squad. He is in his fifth year on the Cortland staff and is an associate professor of physical education.

Dave Miller, also the head wrestling coach, is in his 19th year on the Cortland staff and has coached practically every sport offered at the college. He is a professor of physical education and supervises the field events on the track team.

1968 OUTLOOK

Coach Pierson is optimistic about the caliber of this year's Red Dragon track team for two reasons. A number of talented sophomores from last season's undefeated frosh squad are on the scene; and a beefed up indoor track schedule over the winter has allowed the nucleus of the squad to get in good shape for the spring.

All American distance runner Bob Fitts graduated and will be hard to replace but a solid nucleus and the presence of ample new talent should balance the loss. Veterans Terry Gaskill, NYSTFA long jump record holder; Doug Bayly, the team's leading scorer last season; Chuck Kerrigan in the weight events; and Dave Hill in the sprints should form a solid foundation on which to build. Talented sophomores expected to help the Dragon cause include: Terry Horton, Roy Pfeil, Ed Hines, Bob Wolitarsky, and Ed Faulkner. Transfer students Murray Banks and Ron Fleury, as well as Gary Wilson and Tim Hale should also add to the Cortland impetus which was exhibited in many of the indoor meets over the winter.

This season will mark the first time an SUNYAC championship meet will be held and after reviewing early season workouts Coach Pierson is optimistic concerning Cortland's chances and feels the team will do well in the NYSTFA meet as well.

is head Red Dragon basketball mentor as well.

Coach: Reuben H. "Barney" Williams will begin his eleventh season as head Cortland tennis coach. He came to Cortland in 1957 from Park College and assumed both tennis and junior varsity basketball coaching positions. He previously served three years at Park and six years at Steven's Institute.

A native of Chambersburg, Pa., Barney graduated from West Chester State in 1947 where he competed in football, basketball, tennis and track. At Cortland he is an associate professor of physical education and

1968 OUTLOOK

Rebounding from last season's 3-4 mark and fifth place conference tournament finish will not be easy for the Red Dragon tennis squad even though they have an experienced nucleus returning. Coach Williams sees a tough road ahead during the regular season with possibly some improvement coming in the conference meet, mainly because the squad is strong on top and weak on the bottom.

Missing via the graduation route are Woody Woodruff and Mike O'Connell, two regulars last season. Woodruff played the number three singles spot and the number two doubles position while O'Connell filled the number four singles slot and the number 3 doubles space. Returning to bolster Dragon hopes will be Dave Strebel, who as a sophomore last year won the first flight championship in the SUNYAC tournament in addition to playing number one in both doubles and singles. Also back is Paul Reinhardt who filled the number two singles slot and teamed with Strebel on the number one doubles team. Reinhardt lost in the second flight finals of last year's SUNYAC meet. Regulars Gary Burgdruff and Don Cabin round out the returnees. Burgdruff was sixth man in singles and third in doubles while Cabin played fifth in singles and third in doubles.

Available new talent to which Williams must look to fill the gaps includes transfer Bob Dornfeld and sophomores Brian Cohen and Bob Van Schaick. Cohen is expected to work his way immediately to the top of the regular rotation based on past performance. Both Dornfeld and Van Schaick are unknown quantities.

Coach Williams sees as the key to the Red Dragon season the performances of the bottom men on the squad.

GOLF

Coach: Former Chairman of the Physical Education Department Whitney "Pete" Corey takes over as Cortland golf coach after a semester sabbatical leave in Europe. A 1943 graduate of Cortland, Pete obtained his M.A. from Columbia and his Ed.D. from Syracuse. He has been coaching and teaching at his alma mater since 1947. His duties have included football, baseball and basketball coaching assignments. He presently serves as a professor of physical education at Cortland.

1968 OUTLOOK

Five veterans will return to bolster the '68 edition of the Red Dragon golf team which will be without the services of only two of last year's seniors. Barry Schultz and Mike Gonoroff, the fifth and sixth men on last year's team have graduated but with a solid nucleus of returnees Cortland link fortunes should be on the upswing.

Seniors Ed Ozaroski, first man last campaign, and Dennis Steier who played in the second slot will team with fellow senior Jimmy Abbott, juniors Pete Siegel and Steve Lioconi to give the Red Dragons a good shot at improving last season's second place finish in the SUNYAC tournament. Oswego should shape up as the team's toughest opponent in the three day affair which takes place at Oneonta this year.

ATHLETICS AT CORTLAND

Cortland has long been synonymous with outstanding tradition in athletics and physical education. Red Dragon athletic teams have been dueling with some of the top competition in the Northeastern section of the country since the early part of the 20th century.

As the College enrollment has swelled to more than 3,600 and the academic program has expanded to include 38 major fields of study, the athletic program has also continued to develop. Today the State University College at Cortland fields intercollegiate teams in fourteen sports, including football, soccer, cross country, basketball, wrestling, swimming, gymnastics, indoor track, skiing, lacrosse, baseball, track, tennis and golf.

One of the keys to Cortland's heralded success in intercollegiate athletics is the prowess and ability of its physical education staff. Fifteen coaches guide Red Dragon athletic fortunes, which in recent years have been notably on the upswing.

In its quest for athletic excellence Cortland is an active member of the State University of New York Athletic Conference, the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference, and the National Collegiate Association.
