JAMES M. CLARK
President
State University College at Cortland

Speaking for the students, faculty and staff of State University College at Cortland, we're glad to host this NCAA championship event and hope you enjoy your stay. We regard this as a very important milestone in the rich tradition of intercollegiate athletics at Cortland.

I'm sure that the 1982 NCAA Division III Wrestling Championship Tournament will produce some outstanding individual action on the part of the more than 300 wrestlers who have earned their way here. The excellent competition should provide a memorable experience for athletes and fans alike.

Cortland's record of success through the years is evident in the records of our teams and athletes. For example, last year eight men's teams and 12 women's teams were invited to compete in post-season action. In addition, 22 men and 13 women achieved All-American ranking.

The selection of Cortland as an NCAA tournament site is a high compliment to the College's standing in Division III circles. We welcome you to the campus and look forward to the championship matches.

CLIFTON R. WHARTON, JR.
Chancellor
State University of New York

Congratulations to State University College at Cortland for being invited to host the Ninth Annual NCAA Division III Wrestling Championships. The sport of wrestling has been a popular one on SUNY campuses, and our teams and individual athletes have regularly fared very well in regional and national competition. It is very fitting that a SUNY campus is serving as the site for such an important intercollegiate event.

Individual and team championships will be decided at the tournament as the competition for national titles represents the culmination of long seasons and months of hard training and conditioning. I believe that this type of intercollegiate activity, particularly at the Division III level, is a valuable component in the educational structure of college campuses. The experiences of planning, preparing, and competing in sports can be rewarding to each individual student athlete who strives for the very best.

All athletes and teams have my best wishes for a successful tournament.

STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK, COLLEGE AT CORTLAND

Located atop one of the many hills in central New York's "City of Seven Valleys", the State University College at Cortland was founded in 1868 as the Cortland Normal School. Over the decades, the campus expanded and in 1941, by an act of the legislature and the Board of Regents, the institution officially became a college, providing four-year courses leading to the bachelor's degree. In 1948, the state legislature incorporated Cortland College into the new State University of New York.

Today, more than 5,600 undergraduate and 600 graduate students are pursuing degrees within the College's two academic divisions — Arts and Sciences and Professional Studies. Twenty-three departments with a faculty of more than 300 offer the Cortland State student body some 40 majors from which to choose, including liberal arts, elementary and secondary education, health and physical education, recreation education, speech education and speech & hearing handicapped education.

The College's main campus covers 140 acres and includes 30 major buildings. Thirteen of these structures are residence halls and provide on-campus housing for 2,600 students.

At Cortland State, athletics are viewed as having an important role in the educational mission of the College. During the fall, winter and spring seasons, Cortland State participates in 28 intercollegiate sports — 14 men's and 14 women's — in an attempt to provide a broad program of athletics which will meet the needs, interests and abilities of its students.

The stated objective of the College's athletic program is the development and welfare of the student. In the coaching of individual sports as well as in the direction of the overall athletic program, the College endeavors to provide a high calibre of professional leadership which is consistent with the goals of the institution.

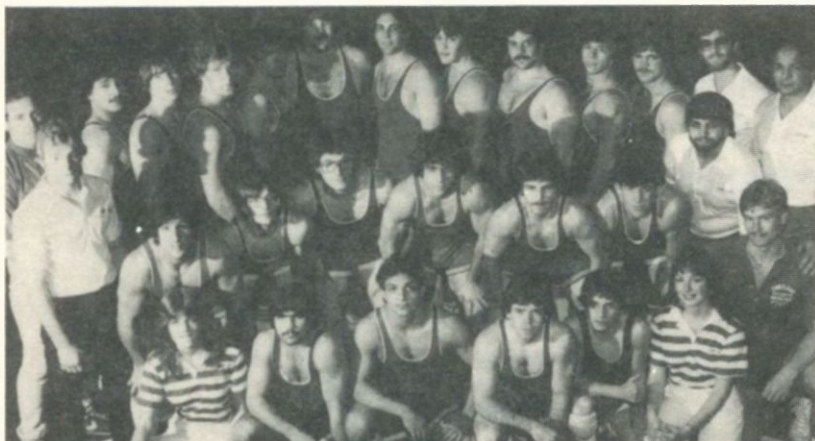

Cortland State is particularly proud of its long tradition of intercollegiate athletics and its high standing in small college athletic circles. In support of this heritage, the College offers its student-athletes a number of outstanding indoor and outdoor facilities which are used for intercollegiate competition as well as educational and recreational purposes. The Park Center for Physical Education and Recreation, opened in 1973, features a main gymnasium with a seating capacity of 3,600, an Olympic-size swimming pool with gallery seating for 1,500, and an ice arena which can accommodate 2,500 spectators.

In addition, Lusk Field House provides an extensive area for indoor practice sessions and activity classes and is the home of the men's and women's indoor track teams. The College has approximately 50 acres of athletic fields. Davis Field, with a seating capacity of 5,000, is the home of the Red Dragon Football and lacrosse squads. Adjacent to Davis Field and the Park Center are 24 tennis courts.

One of 28 intercollegiate sports at Cortland State, the wrestling program has continued to prosper under the 12-year reign of head coach Vince Gonino. Leone, Bob Elmer, Brian McKee, Brad Woodward, Trainer. Third row, assistant coaches Bob Eddy and Mark Kaczanowicz, Tom Fernan, Scott Shaddock, Don King, Mark Stainkan, John Cosgrove, Bob Pietropaolo, Grier Yorks, Laurenzi, Bill Murphy, Bill Chris Morley, Celso Gazon, Martin, Jim Rose, Dana Marty Conner, Jack Goldberg, Carpiello, statistician. Second row, Howie Greenblatt, Payson manager and head coach Vince Snyder, Greg Dermody, Steve Gonino.

The Cortland College Alumni Association extends best wishes for a successful tournament to the Red Dragon Wrestlers.

CORTLAND, NEW YORK

WELCOME TO CORTLAND: THE CROWN CITY

Nestled in the "heart" of New York State, Cortland County is a semi-rural area situated among rolling hills and pleasant valleys. The city of Cortland is alternately nicknamed "The Crown City", because it is the highest (1,129 feet above sea level) incorporated city in New York, and "The City of Seven Valleys", because its location is the converging point for seven valleys along the edge of the Appalachian plateau.

Cortland has a rich background of early history. Five centuries ago, the land was a hunting ground for the Indians of the Iroquois Confederation, whose organizer was the famed Hiawatha. The first white settlers came here in 1792. In 1808, Cortland County was formed, taking its name from General Pierre Van Cortland, the first Lieutenant Governor of New York State.

Over the years, Cortland County would produce a New York State Governor, Nathan Miller, as well as a U.S. Supreme Court Justice, Samuel Nelson, and 1904 U.S. Presidential candidate, Alton B. Parker, who was the Chief Justice of the New York State Court of Appeals.

The County has also been the home of numerous college presidents, explorers, and inventors such as Alexander T. Brown, inventor of the L. C. Smith typewriter, and Horace White, who discovered cellophane. Cortland County also lists the legendary New York Giants baseball manager John J. McGraw among its native sons.

Today, Cortland County remains a beautiful place for its 48,000 inhabitants to live and work. The city of Cortland, the county seat, serves both as a center of government and business to the 48,000 residents of Cortland County.

Cortland serves as the seat to one of the Empire State's premier dairy counties. Half of the county's land is devoted to agriculture. While the dairy industry is king, Cortland County also produces maple products and that integral ingredient of a reuben sandwich — sauerkraut.

With three excellent ski centers in the County, Cortland is the undisputed "Ski Capital of Central New York". During the summer months, nearby lakes offer boating and a variety of water sports, while many golf courses and tennis facilities also meet the recreational needs of the area.

Recreation is just a part of the diversified local industrial base. Known nationally, Smith-Corona Typewriter Co. has its roots in Cortland County. After more than 60 years, this world's largest producer of portable typewriters continues to play an important role in the region's economy.

Other manufactured products in Cortland County include: clothing, overhead doors, canoes and small boats, fish line, tennis rackets, industrial filters, soap powders, paints and filaments, and fabricated houses.

Cortland area residents are proud of their 55 churches, their modern hospital, and their more than 100 small retail stores and businesses. But the real pride of local citizens can be found in their commitment to education.

This history of elementary education in Cortland is older than the County itself. The first schoolhouse was constructed in 1800. Higher education became a reality in 1868, when the State Legislature provided for the Cortland State Normal School, the forerunner of State University College at Cortland today. The local support of education remains strong as student needs are being met in several elementary, junior high and senior high schools, as well as at Tompkins-Cortland Community College and Cortland State.

In this same spirit of educational support, the County Legislature, the Mayor of Cortland and the Cortland County Chamber of Commerce, speaking on behalf of the people of Cortland County, welcome the outstanding student-athletes, their coaches, parents and friends to the "Crown City".

The 1890 House in Cortland reflects the architectural beauty and charm which is a part of the local history.

POLVONITE®

THE TOUGHEST NAME IN MATS

SALUTES

THE WRESTLERS AND COACHES

OF THE

1982 N.C.A.A. DIVISION III CHAMPIONSHIPS

AND

WISHES ALL - THE BEST OF LUCK

Each Polvonite® mat represents over twenty-five years of experience in producing consistently high quality products. We presently fabricate four models of wrestling mats, a complete line of wall padding and a reconditioning program in which the mats are recoated with our registered PEC-10 formula.

SARNEIGE

. . . MAT OF OLYMPIANS

This mat is unlike any other wrestling mat available in the U.S., providing a unique combination of safety and comfort. This mat has been used in each of the last four Olympics.

CHAMPIONSHIP AA . . . MAT OF CHAMPIONS

The mat is superior to all other vinyl coated wrestling mats. The 1982 N.C.A.A. Finals, 1982 N.C.A.A. Division Championships and the 1982 N.A.I.A. Championships will all be wrestled on Polvonite's Championship AA mat.

SILVER EDITION . . . A Rubatex mat with a touch of Polvonite® quality.

BRONZE EDITION . . . The Ensolite foam core mats equals the specifications of our competitors' mats.

The decision to purchase a Polvonite® product insures reasonable prices, unsurpassed quality and complete satisfaction.
