Dear Emeritus Faculty and Staff:

In response to the wishes of many alumni, Cortland's College Council has accepted our recommendation and has named the Athletic Training Room in memory of the late John L. Sciera '52. I am pleased at this time to invite you to join with us as we dedicate the facility on the morning of Saturday, April 30, 1994. You also are invited to attend in the evening the annual Athletic Trainers Banquet which honors current students in the program.

John Cottone, assistant professor of physical education and director of athletic training, has been working with the Alumni Office to plan and promote this special occasion. Bill Tomik '51, professor emeritus of physical education, has agreed to serve as emcee at the dedication. Members of the Sciera family, including John's wife, Bonnie, will join in the celebration.

The combination of the dedication and the evening banquet is a wonderful opportunity for faculty members - current and retired, students, alumni and friends to honor one of the true pioneers in the athletic training profession.

The information accompanying this letter of invitation provides all the details regarding the day's events. I hope you will be able to participate with us as we honor the founder of the athletic training program at Cortland.

Sincerely,

James M. Clark
President
