STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK COLLEGE AT CORTLAND

Located atop one of the rolling hills in central New York's "City of Seven Valleys," the State University of New York College at Cortland was founded in 1868 as the Cortland Normal School, which included among its earliest students inventor and industrialist Elmer A. Sperry of Sperry-Rand Corp. fame.

Over the decades, the campus expanded and in 1941, by an act of the legislature and the Board of Regents, the institution officially became a four-year college providing courses leading to the bachelor's degree. In 1948, Cortland College was a founding member of the State University of New York.

Today, more than 5,600 undergraduate and 600 graduate students are pursuing degrees within the College's two academic divisions — Arts & Sciences and Professional Studies. Twenty-three departments with a faculty of more than 300 offer the Cortland State student body some 40 majors from which to choose, including economics, biology, sociology, elementary and secondary education, physical education, health education and recreation to name a few.

The College's main campus covers 191 acres and includes 30 major buildings. Fourteen of these structures are residence halls providing on-campus housing for 2,600 students. Cortland also operates its Outdoor Education Center at Raquette Lake in the Adirondacks, the Hoxie Gorge Nature Preserve outside Cortland, and the Brauer Memorial Geological Field Station near Albany on the Helderberg Escarpment.

At Cortland State, athletics are viewed as having an important role in the educational mission of the College. During the fall, winter and spring seasons, Cortland participates in 24 intercollegiate sports — 12 men's and 12 women's — in an attempt to provide a broad program which will meet the needs, interests and abilities of its students.

The stated objective of the College's athletic program is the development and welfare of the student. In the coaching of individual sports as well as in the direction of the overall athletic program, the College endeavors to provide a high calibre of professional leadership consistent with the goals of the institution.

Cortland State is particularly proud of its long tradition of intercollegiate athletics and its high standing in small college athletic circles. In support of this heritage, the College offers its student athletes — some 800 annually — a number of outstanding indoor and outdoor facilities for intercollegiate competition, as well as for educational and recreational purposes.

The Park Center for Physical Education and Recreation, opened in 1973, features a main gymnasium with a 3,600 seating capacity; an Olympic-sized swimming pool with gallery seating for 1,500; an ice arena which can accommodate 2,500 spectators; racquetball and squash courts, a wrestling room, and modern athletic training facilities. Nearby Lusk Field House, with its new tartan-textured surface, is home for the indoor track teams, varsity practice sessions and recreational activities. The Red Dragon football and lacrosse squads compete on Davis Field, with its 5,000 seating capacity. Cortland's soccer teams play on Holloway Field, which has lights for night contests. The College has 50 acres of athletic fields and 24 outdoor tennis courts.

HEAD COACH BONNIE FOLEY

A former professional basketball player, Bonnie Foley takes over as the Cortland State head women's basketball coach in 1986-87. Foley, a member of the Southern Illinois University Intercollegiate Hall of Fame, set all-time scoring and rebounding records as a player and captain at SIU, where she earned a bachelor's degree in physical education/recreation in 1979.

The St. Louis Streak of the Women's Professional Basketball League made Foley its first round draft choice in 1979. She was traded to and played for the San Francisco Pioneers that season. Foley also competed in Venezuela in 1979 through the Partners of America program of the Women's National Basketball League.

In 1981, Foley earned a master's degree in education at the University of Arkansas, where she served as assistant women's basketball coach. From 1981 to 1983, Foley was coordinator of the seven-sport women's athletic program and also head women's basketball coach at Castleton State in Vermont. Her hoop squads posted a 24-19 record and landed an NAIA District Five playoff berth.

Foley went to Plymouth State in New Hampshire in 1983. For the past three seasons, she coached both women's basketball and softball. Foley's basketball teams were 41-30, including a 16-8 mark in 1984-85 when the team finished seventh nationally in defense. Her softball teams had a 47-34 combined record and, in 1985, captured the ECAC Division III New England Championship. Foley served on ECAC Committees for both sports.

An instructor in the physical education department at Cortland, Foley taught adaptive physical education at both Castleton and Plymouth and has been active with the Special Olympics Program since 1976.
