CORTLAND
STATE
1983 FOOTBALL
GUIDE

Old Main

Located atop one of the many hills in central New York's "City of Seven Valleys", the State University College at Cortland was founded in 1868 as the Cortland Normal School. Over the decades, the campus expanded and in 1941, by an act of the legislature and the Board of Regents, the institution officially became a college, providing four-year courses leading to the bachelor's degree. In 1948, the state legislature incorporated Cortland College into the new State University of New York.

Today, more than 5,400 undergraduate and 600 graduate students are pursuing degrees within the College's two academic divisions—Arts and Sciences and Professional Studies. Twenty-three departments with a faculty of more than 300 offer the Cortland State student body some 40 majors from which to choose, including liberal arts, elementary and secondary education, health and physical education, recreation education, speech education and speech & hearing handicapped education.

The College's main campus covers 191 acres and includes 30 major buildings. Fourteen of these structures are residence halls and provide on-campus housing for 2,600 students.

At Cortland State, athletics are viewed as having an important role in the educational mission of the College. During the fall, winter and spring seasons, Cortland State participates in 24 intercollegiate sports—12 men's and 12 women's—in an attempt to provide a broad program of athletics which will meet the needs, interests and abilities of its students.

The stated objective of the College's athletic program is the development and welfare of the student. In the coaching of individual sports as well as in the direction of the overall athletic program, the College endeavors to provide a high calibre of professional leadership which is consistent with the goals of the institution.

Cortland State is particularly proud of its long tradition of intercollegiate athletics and its high standing in small college athletic circles. In support of this heritage, the College offers its student-athletes a number of outstanding indoor and outdoor facilities which are used for intercollegiate competition as well as educational and recreational purposes. The Park Center for Physical Education and Recreation, opened in 1973, features a main gymnasium with a seating capacity of 3,600, an Olympic-size swimming pool with gallery seating for 1,500, and an ice arena which can accommodate 2,500 spectators.

In addition, Lusk Field House provides an extensive area for indoor practice sessions and activity classes and is the home of the men's and women's indoor track teams. The College has approximately 50 acres of athletic fields. Davis Field, with a seating capacity of 5,000, is the home of the Red Dragon football and lacrosse squads. Adjacent to Davis Field and the Park Center are 24 tennis courts.

HEAD COACH LARRY CZARNECKI

During the mid-1970s, Larry Raymond Czarnecki became the most heralded lineman in Ithaca College history by playing on a steady diet of desire, intensity and commitment. Voted Kodak and Associated Press All-American, ECAC Upstate Player of the Year, All-ECAC for two years, All-Upstate for three years and All-Conference for four years, Czarnecki knows firsthand the recipe for success.

"This team's at the stage where commitment will take it to the next level of play," said Czarnecki, who shifts this autumn from four years as the C-State defensive coordinator to become the eighth Red Dragon head gridiron coach since 1925.

"Under Coach (Ed) Decker, the team established a reputation for hard hitting, for never giving up and coming from behind to win. We trailed in all of our games last year and ended up winning four of them. You can't run before you walk. We've got the credibility as a team that doesn't quit, now we've got to establish a commitment towards winning."

"By commitment, I mean the little things," continued the 32-year-old mentor. "Each player taking pride in his responsibility, whatever that may be. Cutting out the errors, the fumbles. Making key blocks. Making the proper reads. When the opponent does something good, we come back and do something better. That's commitment. These kids are hungry, they want to play. All they need is to be told what to do and they'll do it."

A product of Nanticoke, Pa., Czarnecki served two years in the U.S. Navy before attending Ithaca College. The 6-3, 240-pound tackle helped lead the Bombers to two Lambert Trophies and two appearances in the NCAA Division III championship games. He played semi-pro football with the Scranton Stars from 1976-78 and with the Binghamton Jets from 1979-80.

In 1976, Czarnecki graduated cum laude with a Bachelor of Science degree from Ithaca College. He received a master's degree in sports psychology from the same institution the following year.

After graduation he joined the Ithaca College coaching staff as defensive line coach and recruiter for northeastern Pennsylvania. In 1977, Czarnecki became the assistant varsity offensive line coach at Dartmouth. He also handled the freshman defensive coaching chores there.

In 1978, Czarnecki became a member of the Cortland State faculty as a physical education instructor. He was in charge of the defensive line that first season prior to being named defensive coordinator in 1979. While at Cortland, Czarnecki has also developed the Weight Training Club, has served as interim head track coach and has been assistant track coach for the past six seasons.

A small college football graduate himself, Czarnecki envisions the C-State grid program in terms of his own Division III football philosophy, "where athletes are given the chance to develop to their fullest potential without a lot of demands placed upon them. They play football because they want to, not because they have to."

Larry and his wife, Deborah, and their two daughters, Jill, 2, and Kelly, 1, reside in Cortland.

RED DRAGON COACHING STAFF

Jerry Casciani Linebackers

A member of the Cortland State faculty since 1970, Jerry Casciani played offensive and defensive back for Springfield College in the late 1950s. The Niagara Falls, N.Y., native received his B.S. degree from Springfield in 1959 and earned an M.A. from Penn State in 1960. Casciani played semi-pro football in Pennsylvania for two years and was an assistant coach at Manhasset (NY) High School. From 1964-67, he was head lacrosse coach and assistant football coach at Baltimore (MD) Junior College. Before coming to Cortland, Casciani served as district chairman of health and physical education of the Northeastern School District of York County, Pa.

While at Cortland State, Casciani has been head wrestling coach, assistant wrestling and lacrosse coach, and served as linebacker coach from 1970-75. He rejoined the football staff in 1980. Jerry and his wife, Judith Lee, and their children, Christopher, 14, and Jennifer, 11, reside in Cortland.

Gary Cassell Offensive Backs

A 1972 graduate of Cortland State, Gary Cassell is in his third year with the Red Dragon coaching staff. Cassell is a physical education teacher within the Cortland City School system, where he has been coaching high school golf since 1979. His previous coaching experience at Cortland High includes assistant varsity football coach from 1973-79 and varsity lacrosse coach between 1974-77. As an undergraduate at Cortland State, Cassell played football and lacrosse. He received his master's degree from Cortland in 1973. Gary and his wife, Rita, and their children, Jim, 7, and Karen, 4, reside in Cortland.

Larry Martin Junior Varsity

Larry Martin, a native of Ogdensburg, N.Y., grew up and attended high school in Cortland. He continued his educational pursuits at Cortland State, playing end on the Dragon grid units of the early 1950s. Martin earned a B.S. from Cortland in 1953 and an M.S. from the same school in 1957, before heading back to the North Country as a scholastic football, basketball and baseball coach. He taught at Gouverneur, Massena and Canton High Schools, being named AD at the latter. In 1963, Martin returned to his alma mater to coach football and golf. He assisted the Dragon grid units from 1963 to 1981. A professor of physical education specializing in sports psychology, Larry and his wife, Jackie, reside in Cortland. They have five children: Kevin, 24, Bob, 22, Mike, 21, Kelly, 20, and Maureen, 12.

R. Scott Robinson Offensive Line

Scott shifts his coaching assignments in 1983 from handling the defensive secondary to directing the offensive line. A native of Syracuse, Robinson grew up in Boston until his high school years, when his family moved to Cortland. His father, Roger, coached Cortland State from 1963 to 1979. A standout on the Cortland High football unit, Scott played defensive back and punter for Nassau Community College. Both seasons that Robinson played at NCC, the team made consecutive post-season trips. In 1971, Robinson transferred to Syracuse University and became the Orangemen punter for two campaigns. He received his B.S. from Syracuse in 1973 and his M.A. from Cortland in 1975.

Between 1975-78, Robinson was head football coach at Moravia High School. During that time, he directed Moravia to a combined record of 19-14-4. He is a teacher of physical education and recreation at Moravia High, where he coaches the junior varsity basketball team. Scott and his wife, Anne, and their daughter, Kate, 1, reside in Cortland.

Bob Wallace Receivers

Bob Wallace, a member of the Cortland College C-Club Hall of Fame, returns to coaching Red Dragon football after an 11-year absence from the sport. Wallace directed the C-State baseball teams for 25 years before retiring from the diamond in 1982 as the winningest coach (366-206-3) in the school's history. Wallace was voted conference "coach of the year" on four occasions. A native of Syracuse, Wallace attended Colgate University and Cortland State, graduating from the latter in 1953. He played football at both institutions. Before returning to his alma mater in 1956, Wallace coached four sports at Painted Post High School. At Cortland, he has directed the basketball teams and was a football assistant until the early 1970s, in addition to his successful baseball skein. Bob and his wife, Sally, also a member of the C-Club Hall of Fame, are assistant professors of Physical Education at Cortland State and reside in Cortland.

CORTLAND STATE 1983 FOOTBALL PREVIEW

Football analysts reviewing the 1982 Cortland State season would discover an offense that basked in a healthy double-digit scoring inflationary period. Only once in 10 games last autumn did the potent Dragon attack allow its point production to dip below 20 points. But while the C-State offensive chart soared skyward, the injury-riddled Dragon defense—a patchwork quilt of relocated veterans and anxious, but inexperienced underclassmen—coughed up an average 400 yards each outing.

The wild, free-for-all offensive battles Cortland staged with its foes in '82 were definite crowd-pleasers but did little for establishing a controlled momentum. New Dragon head coach Larry Czarniecki inherits a nearly intact record-breaking (24.2 ppg) scoring machine and most of the now experienced defensive troops from last year's squad. He'll admittedly seek to establish a balance between the two in 1983.

"We've got to control our offense more this season," said Czarniecki, the Dragon defensive coordinator since 1979. "It doesn't do much good to score on the big play, then leave our defense out there on the field most of the game. There has to be a balance."

Czarniecki, whose forte is defense, will present Dragon opponents with a more diversified, gambling defensive unit this autumn to augment the already successful C-State offense. Cortland State has 16 returning starters—nine on offense and seven defense—to form the nucleus of a team that should improve on last season's 4-6 record. Just how far the Dragons advance in 1983 will attest to Czarniecki's defensive savvy, the veterans' commitment toward improvement, and the ability of Cortland State's untested signal caller—whoever eventually wins the job—to mature at quarterback. The person who earns the starring role at QB will have one of the best supporting casts in Upstate New York.

The Dragons, who defeated the University of Buffalo and Ithaca College at home in 1982, must play both squads on the road this autumn. Additionally, the C-State schedule has undergone a facelift for '83. The Dragons will replace contests against Hobart, Hofstra and New York Tech for games against two new foes—Salisbury State in Maryland and Pace University. The Salisbury outing on October 1st will mark the Dragons' first out-of-state gridiron battle since playing at Southern Connecticut State in 1979.

An in-depth pre-season look at the 1983 Cortland State football team follows:

OFFENSIVE BACKFIELD

The Dragons lose two starters from '82 offensively and both are in the backfield. Mike Bowe, whose 2,299 career yards and 25 career TD's made him the all-time leading ground-gainer and scorer in Cortland history, has graduated. So has QB Jay Cieply, a four-year starter who owns many of the Dragon career passing marks. Cieply shared starting time in 1982 with senior Scott Zahn (9-of-19 for 289 yards, 2 TD's) and junior Sam Millich (63-of-142 for 936 yards, 7 TD's, 8 INT's). Both Zahn and Millich have elected not to continue their football careers. The heir apparent at QB is sophomore Tom Dexter, who directed the junior varsity last season. He will be pressured by a pair of incoming freshmen. At fullback, junior Dave Cook (118 atts., 557 yds., 9 TD's) returns for his third season as a starter. Voted ECAC Upstate Rookie of the Year in 1981, Cook has rushed for 1,245 career yards and 17 TD's—fourth best in C-State grid annals. By season's end, Cook should be second to Bowe. At halfback, senior Tom Lee (45 atts., 232 yds., 2 TD's) replaces Bowe. Perennially a top kick returner, Lee will use his elusive moves and excellent speed full-time for both duties now. Some new names to look for in the backfield include sophomores Mike Brown, Mier Silverstein and Steve Peltier. Junior FB Jamie Chiappetta could also be a factor, along with transfer Craig Scott and newcomer Lorne Stuck.

OFFENSIVE LINE

The Dragon offensive line, often unheralded, has been the C-State mainstay for the past three seasons. The 1983 edition should do nothing to tarnish that reputation. Buoyed by overall size and hardy dose of experience, the '83 front wall should again allow the Dragons to average better than 4.0 yards-per-carry for the fourth straight season—an accomplishment few offensive lines can match. Pacing the Dragon charge is senior captain Bill Pittorino (6-2, 250) at guard. The Cortland coaching staff without reservation felt that Pittorino was best offensive lineman playing Division III football in New York State last year. Opposite Pittorino at guard is talented two-year starter Greg Vairo (6-1, 250), who sat out last season with an injury. Milt Bradshaw (6-1, 230) returns at center, while Terry Bitka (6-3, 245) is back at one tackle. A group of veterans will battle for the other tackle slot and will add depth to the offensive line. These include Joe Gerbano (6-0, 230), John Freda (6-1, 225), Dave Foell (6-1, 225) and Alan Wohlford (6-6, 250). Newcomers here will be Chip Sordak (6-2, 205), Jim O'Connell (6-2, 223) and Jim Mango (5-11, 210).

RECEIVERS

The Cortland State pass catching corps returns intact from 1982 and should give the Dragons one of the finest receiving units in the region. All-American Frank Burn (37 for 763 yards, 20.5 avg., 5 TD's) set a single school mark with eight receptions for 267 yards and 2 TD's against Buffalo last year. He will be teamed with junior captain Dwayne Taylor (20 for 451 yds., 22.5 avg., 4 TD's). Burn and Taylor not only pose deep threats and excellent pass reception abilities, but each is a devastating downfield blocker. Splitting time at tight end in 1982 were junior Don Root (4 for 41 yds.) and Jeff Englert (4 for 76 yds., 1 TD). The tandem returns their experience, blocking skills and look-in pass catching skills. Providing depth as receivers will be sophomores Phil Lane, Mark Thompson and Alonzo Hooks. The latter will also be teamed with Tom Lee as a kick returner. Hooks had a TD kick return in a JV game last season. Junior John Sullivan, who missed the '82 campaign after a fine JV year, will be back in the line-up for 1983.

DEFENSIVE LINE

The big question facing the Red Dragons here hovers around the defensive end positions. Cortland must replace both Brian Moran and John Martens, whose graduations have left stiff competition for the vacancies. Vying for the strong side end should be Mark Cowdery (6-3, 240) and Tony Williams (6-1, 210). At weak side end, the battle revolves around Jim Barber (6-1, 215), Reid Raleigh (6-2, 200) and Kevin Pendergast (6-1, 205). The heart of the defensive unit will be found at the tackle positions, where captain Steve Archambeau (6-3, 240) and Paul Falsone (6-1, 258) spearhead the charge. Falsone, whom Czarniecki believes can become the best defensive lineman in Cortland history, was the second leading tackler on the squad with 83 stops in 1982, including 10 tackles for losses and two fumble recoveries. Archambeau, a two-year starter, had 50 tackles last fall. Junior Myron Ketter (6-0, 230) saw varsity action in '82 and adds experience at tackle. Jim Downs (6-3, 250) moves from offense to defense to bolster the C-State line.

LINEBACKERS

Last year, All-ECAC middle linebacker Bob Bateson was a lone pillar of stability in a Red Dragon linebacking contingent that suffered through a disastrous season filled with injury and attrition. Bateson, the team leading tackler the past two campaigns, has graduated and Cortland must forge a new trio of backers to anchor the 1983 defense. Coach Czarniecki will employ both late-season starters and some transplanted talent to accomplish this task. Captain Greg George (6-0, 215) shifts from fullback to strong side linebacker, as does Bob Koonz (6-0, 210), who started at cornerback in '82. Sophomore Jeff Kisloski (6-2, 215) did not play last year but will get a good look here. The contest for the other outside linebacker will be between part-time starters Don King (6-0, 195) and Zeke Zilka (5-9, 190), along with Chris Falvey (6-0, 190), who moves from a safety position last season. Replacing Bateson in the middle will be either spot-player Anthony Zawadzki (6-0, 200) or converted outside linebacker Bob LeMere (5-10, 210). Newcomers at linebacker will include Ken Cook (6-0, 200), John Gaine (6-2, 210) and Dom Zappia (5-10, 215).

DEFENSIVE SECONDARY

The Cortland State defensive backfield line-up for the final four games of 1982 returns in place this autumn. Junior Sam Daniels (6-2, 175), a conference champion sprinter, has matured on the playing field during the past two seasons into the secondary leader. His 67 tackles and 11 spoiled pass plays led the defensive backs on the team last year. Sophomore Russ Davis (6-1, 185) moved from the junior varsity to starting cornerback for the last few varsity games. He performed well enough to earn the confidence of the Cortland coaching staff in his ability to handle free safety in 1983. Junior Brian Kittner (6-1, 195) spent last year learning the roverback duties by trial and error. He's ready to take charge there this time around but will receive some heat for the starting berth from sophomore Tim Lambert (5-9, 165). The competition should be fierce for the other cornerback spot, with Mike Motsay (5-10, 180), the team's interception leader with four in 1982, and Rob Cerone (5-10, 180), who had both of C-State's blocked kicks last year, leading the pack for starting cornerback honors. Other names to look for in the defensive secondary will be Brockport State transfer Joe Dominick and sophomores Tom Wernig, Steve Artunes and Rich Reilly.

KICKER/PUNTER

Tim Reynolds, who made an excellent transition from soccer to handling the Dragon placekicking with 27-of-31 PAT's and 5 FG's last year, has graduated. Junior Ken Fabian, another soccer team export who booted for the JV's in 1982, will probably be Reynolds' replacement. Cortland's punting game, the worst in the Upstate New York region last season, remains a serious question mark heading into the upcoming season. Junior defensive back Mike Motsay may perform the duties, although Coach Czarniecki will definitely be experimenting in pre-season with a number of punters.

CORTLAND STATE FOOTBALL FANS: AMONG THE TOP 20 IN THE NATION

Last autumn, Cortland State averaged just over 4,000 spectators for each of its five home football contests. The NCAA reports that the 20,700 fans who filtered through the Chugger Davis Field gates allowed the Red Dragons to rank 19th out of 195 NCAA Division III institutions in attendance figures for the 1982 season.

PLAYER PROFILES

Tim Lambert
Sophomore
Major: Physical Education

Rochester, N.Y.
Defensive Back

Tim played wide receiver on the Dragon junior varsity last season...Wants to play "rover" back on defense in '83...Good jumper with excellent athletic ability...Minoring in computer science...Participated in basketball, golf and track at Rochester's Aquinas Institute...Tim is the son of Bob and Carole Lambert, 44 Lambert Drive.

Tom Dexter
Sophomore
Major: Undecided

Delmar, N.Y.
Quarterback

With the C-State quarterback spot up for grabs, Tom becomes the pre-season frontrunner for the job...He split time as the junior varsity signalcaller last autumn...Runs the option very well but needs to develop his passing ability to enhance his chances as a starter, says Coach Czarniecki...Knowing the Cortland game plan is a big plus...Played basketball, baseball and football at Bethlehem Central in Delmar...Tom is the son of Thomas and Teresa Dexter, 11 Pine Tree Drive.

Rob Cerone
Junior
Major: Physical Education

Rochester, N.Y.
Cornerback

Rob started the last half of the '82 campaign at free safety, where he gained valuable experience...Shifting to cornerback this year...An outstanding tackler...Had both of the C-State blocked kicks in 1982...Finished the season with 45 tackles...Faces a battle for the starting role...Rob played football, basketball and baseball at Greece Athena High in Rochester...He is the son of Dick and Jean Cerone, 58 Kaywood.

Tom Lee
Senior
Major: Physical Education

Rockville Centre, N.Y.
Halfback

Tom should be one of the most exciting runners in Upstate New York this autumn...A national kickoff return leader as a sophomore...Averaged 21.7 yards-per-return last season...Elusive ballcarrier with fine lateral speed...Carried 45 times for 232 yards and 2 TD's (5.1 yds.-per-carry) in 1982...Split time with all-time Cortland leading rusher Mike Bowe...Coach Czarniecki says of him, "He's a mirror image of Bowe who's a break-away threat every time he touches the ball"...Throws the javelin on the Dragon track team...Ran track and played football at St. Agnes Cathedral on the Island...Attended Wagner College before Cortland State...Tom is the son of Robert and Margaret Lee, 49 Rockaway Avenue.

Frank Burm
Senior
Major: Physical Education

Newark, N.Y.
Wide Receiver

An All-American in 1982...Frank shattered the single game school reception mark in the opener against Buffalo last year...Caught eight passes for 267 yards and 2 TD's vs. the Bulls...Finished the year with 763 yards and 5 TD's on 37 receptions—the second highest season total at C-State for catches and yards by a receiver...Epitomized the "deep threat" in '82 with receptions of 80 yards, 69 yards and 65 yards...A surprisingly good downfield blocker makes him the all-around receiver...Another season like the last one would make Burm tops in career receiving statistics at Cortland State...Frank is the son of Ronald and Helen Ceravolo, 1641 Zurich Road.

Mike Brown
Sophomore
Major: Undecided

Riverhead, N.Y.
Halfback

Mike has exceptional leaping ability for his 5-8 frame...Has cleared 6-8 as a high jumper on the Red Dragon track team...Played exclusively on the junior varsity grid team last autumn...Coach Czarniecki is impressed by his quickness...Should be one of the fastest Dragon ballcarriers...A definite outside threat, but needs to work on his ballhandling, says Czarniecki...Attended Riverhead High...Mike is the son of Joan Gardner, 9 Nadel Drive.

Mike Motsay
Junior
Major: Health

Freeville, N.Y.
Cornerback

"Mots" was Cortland's most consistent defensive back in '82 until an injury against Alfred abruptly cut short his season...Has rehabilitated to 100 percent during the winter months...Paced the Dragons in interceptions with four last year...Must compete to regain his cornerback slot...Played football, basketball and baseball at Dryden Central...Mike is the son of Joseph and Sharon Motsay, 188 West Main Street.

27
Mark Thompson
 Sophomore

47
Timothy "Zeke" Zilka
 Sophomore
 Major: Undecided

Ballston Spa, N.Y.
 Linebacker

Zeke began the 1982 campaign on the Dragon junior varsity unit... Intense play landed him a berth on the Cortland varsity's "bomb squad" specialty teams... Played the last four games as an outside linebacker... Coach Czarniecki feels that Zeke has all the tools to start at the "whip" linebacker slot, but will be locked into a three-way battle for that privilege... Played football and golf and was a skiing instructor at Burnt Hills-Ballston Lake High... Attended Hudson Valley Community College... Zeke is the son of Harold and Olivette Zilka, RD 2, Hop City Road.

48
Don King
 Junior
 Major: Physical Education

Rochester, N.Y.
 Linebacker

Don moved into a starting linebacker role on the injury-plagued Dragon team late in the '82 season... That experience will give him an edge in the competition for a starting position this autumn... A good tackler and hard hitter... Only needed confidence, which he developed last year, Coach Czarniecki says... Qualified for the NCAA Division III Wrestling Championships held at Cortland State as a freshman on the Dragon squad... Played football and wrestled at Rochester's Gates-Chili High... Don is the son of Ronald and Barbara King, 7 Minute Man Trail.

50
Paul Robbins

Coach Bill Dando's Bulls will throw the ball again, with senior QB Marty Barrett, who passed for 4,441 career yards and 26 TD's, heading the list of 26 letterwinners from last season's 5-5 team. Wide receivers Chris D'Amico, Jim Biggs and John Greeley accounted for 1,354 yards and 10 TD's on 76 receptions in '82, and Small College All-American placekicker Bernie Weber, 26 PAT's and 11 FG's, also returns. LB Gerry Quinlivan and DB's John Bernard and Frank Licata are vets, but Dando must replace the entire front four, plus most of the offensive line and running back Pat Whitehead, who had 1,533 rushing, receiving and return yards last fall. Transfers who will help include DB Andy Hurley (Syracuse), OL Tony Ryyken (Texas A&M) and HB James Carter (Pitt). The Bulls also enjoyed a banner recruiting year.

PACE UNIVERSITY PROSPECTUS

Head Coach George Maier begins his second decade at the Pace football helm by attempting to fill a QB vacancy. Soph Neil Morgenstern started late in last year's 5-4 season and looks to be the frontrunner. Maier prefers a balanced attack and wants a QB who can run as well as throw. FB Joe Wallace (588 yds., 7 TD's) and all-time Pace leading rusher TB Tim Conlon (545 yds., 3 TD's), who has 1,533 career yards. FL Chet Feighan (16-384, 3 TD's) leads the receivers. C Tom Mowat begins his third season on the offensive line, with both tackles, Jim Berrill and Anthony Ross, back. All-ECAC safety Mike Robustelli leads the secondary. CB Peter Lewis had six interceptions in '82 to pace the team. Three of last year's linebacking corps, now all juniors, are back: Rich Fay, Rocky Lyle and Sal Gentile, but the Setters must replace All-Metro Defensive Player of the Year LB Tim Brennan. Senior Jack Walsh at DT appears to be the best of the Setter front charge in pre-season, although Pace shows a great deal of depth here.

SALISBURY STATE PROSPECTUS

Despite the toughest schedule in school history, second-year coach Mike McGlinchey is optimistic that the Gulls can improve on last year's 5-4 record. McGlinchey pins those hopes on the team's familiarity with the Wing-T offense, which he introduced at Salisbury in '82. The Gulls have nine returners on offense to make the formation work, including QB Robb Disbennett (73-163, 1,123 yds., 7 TD's, 16 Int's). Soph HB Dwayne Humenik (74 for 356, 7 TD's) leads the returning ballcarriers. TE Tony Hartman (23-484, 5 TD's), Disbennett's favorite target, also returns. Up front, OT Sonny Yeatman, C Mark Geniesse and G Joe Mammano head the list of vets. Defensively, the Gulls stick to the 5-2, but with a few different looks. Gone is Kodak All-American LB Mark Lagowski. However, seven starters are back, notably on the line. NG Aaron Bell, DT Mike Burton, and DE's Wade Manis and Livingston Banks all return. Sherman Wood and Dwayne Franklin add experience at CB, as does FS Tim Randolph.

BROCKPORT STATE PROSPECTUS

The Golden Eagles begin the 1983 campaign with a new coach and a new offensive scheme. Keith Moody, who played professionally in the AFC, makes his collegiate coaching debut at Brockport this autumn. He has scuttled the Eagles' Wing-T offense, which produced few points and a 1-8 record in '82, in favor of the I-formation. TB Craig Woodfolk returns after a year's absence and will be teamed with TB Mike Holland. The QB spot is up for grabs. WR Phil Ellis and FL Jack Magiera are veteran receivers. OT Mike Pesarchik (6-2, 250), OG Mike Kinsella (5-11, 225) and C Chris Romano (6-0, 195) form the nucleus of the line. Defensively, DT's John Daly (6-2, 260) and Terry Gavin (6-3, 245) along with NG Chris Brescia (5-9, 210) lead the charge. LB's Steve O'Brien and Terry Cavanaugh return. CB Paul Chapman and safety Jim Mullins pace an experienced secondary.

ALBANY STATE PROSPECTUS

With All-American DT Jim Canfield returning, along with LB's Ed Eastman and Bob Cohen, opponents will be hardpressed to score on the Danes in '83. A stingy defense is essential, however, as Albany's entire offensive line from '82 has departed and the Dane attack will need time to gel. Defensively, safety Dave Hardy has graduated, but there are vets back at every spot. Senior Bob Jojo is particularly strong at CB. Offensively, a combination of graduation and bad luck has cost Albany nine lettermen. SE's Bob Brien and Pete McGrath are the only players with substantial experience returning. Leading receiver Jay Ennis, a tight end, has opted to model men's fashions in Italy. The Danes' top four rushers in '82 return, led by soph FB Pat Harrison (112 for 504 yds.). Reserve QB's last autumn, Eric Liley and Tom Roth will battle for the No. 1 spot in 1983.

ALFRED UNIVERSITY PROSPECTUS

The loss of three All-Americans must be noted up front in any presentation of the Alfred University football outlook for 1983. Brian O'Neil was "everybody's choice" at free safety or defensive back. He was named to the Kodak College Division First Team. Joe Hale, punter and tight end, and Matt Sullivan, wide receiver, both received honorable mention. "When you lose these types of players," says Coach Sam Sanders, "it's hard to replace them. But I think we have quality players waiting to fill in. I'm optimistic. We will be competitive if we can avoid serious injuries." The Saxons have lost five starters on offense and four on defense. However, Sanders will have 33 returning lettermen, including C Dan Bates, the offensive captain, and LB Mickey Smith, the defensive captain. QB Glen Law returns for his third season. He was 163-of-289 for 1,882 yards in '82. "Lack of experience may hurt us," adds Sanders. "We'll just have to wait and see."

CANISIUS COLLEGE PROSPECTUS

Head coach Tom Hersey directed the Golden Griffins to a fine 6-3 record in his first year in 1982. With a notable nucleus of veterans returning, Canisius could be strong again. The Griffins averaged nearly 200 yards rushing per game last autumn. Top gainer Walt Robinson has signed with the Buffalo Bills, but FB Mike Leavell (116 for 621 yds., 7 TD's) is back. Canisius must replace Tony Shareno at QB. Jeff Souder (11-30, 211 yds. and 2 TD's) and John Kowalczyk, both juniors, will vie for the role. All-American WR Tom Schott (38 receipts for 729 yds., 3 TD's) and TE's Kevin Spellacy and Gerard Green give the Griffins experienced receivers. The front wall will be headed by OT Mark Salter, OT John Zehr and OG Pat Penque. Defensively, Canisius must find replacements for its linebackers, while DE John Attea (56 tackles) paces the front four. At DB, seniors Mickey Crews (47 tackles) and Jim Nolan (48 tackles) should be the leaders. Placekicker Brad Stitt, an all-ECAC kicker as a freshman, was voted all-ECAC as a punter in 1982.

ITHACA COLLEGE PROSPECTUS

Coach Jim Butterfield hopes the '82 campaign will be looked upon as a learning experience by the 1983 Bomber team and staff. Ithaca started slowly, but lost only one—to Cortland State—in its last six outings to finish 6-4. Strategy changes midway through last autumn rejuvenated the Blue and Gold, which returns all 11 defensive starters and eight veterans on offense. "We have veterans everywhere, at every position, and we feel pretty good about who they are and what they can do," says Butterfield. Defensively, All-American NG Bill Sheerin anchors the line. LB's Dave Stone, an All-American, and Mike Bontempo are back. CB Mike DeVirgilius is a two-year starter. On offense, the Bombers must settle on a QB for '83. Junior Jeff Flanders has the early nod. Senior FB Mike Moreau (832 yds.) is the top rusher. Senior Kevin Finn (20-289) and soph George Mack (209-432, 6 TD's) return as receivers, along with TE Jeff Lacey (10-155). ST. LAWRENCE PROSPECTUS

Coach Andy Talley's Saints, stacked with talent on both sides of the ball, cruised to a 9-0 regular season mark in 1982 and advanced two games into the NCAA Division III playoffs. "We weren't that great a team last year, but we had a certain chemistry—everyone got along well. In fact, we might be a better team on paper this year. But we lost seven seniors who gave us something extra and I'll have to wait to see if we have the same sort of chemistry again." Most notable losses are QB Mark Ferrante, who guided the Saint attack with 2,000-plus total yards, and LB Steve Kuno, who had 130 tackles. The SLU "magic" might be found once more in its offensive backfield which includes Keith Henry (1,354 yards), TB Bennett Steans and RB Lelan Rogers. WR Chris Stanisci returns, as does OT Ed Szott up front. With the exception of Kuno, the SLU defensive corps is intact. Tops here should be NG Paul Edison, a two-time All-American, and safety Bob Glendening.
