As Seen From The Press Box

By Irving Simpson, Publicity Director

The Red Dragons of Cortland State University Teachers College will need plenty of boisterous cheering this afternoon from returning alumni and fans on hand for their annual homecoming football game against the Ithaca College Bombers. The Red and White is cast as definite underdogs to the visiting undefeated and untied Bombers.

Today's contest is the 16th renewal of a gridiron series that dates back to 1930 and is the second oldest football rivalry on the 1958 Cortland schedule. Only the series with East Stroudsburg State Teachers is longer.

Cortland has won eight of the 15 games, lost four and tied three. Since 1952 the Red Dragons have dominated the series, except for a 13-13 tie in 1954. This year the edge goes to the Bombers who come to town with four straight victories, while the Red Dragons have won one and lost two games to date.

Memories of the 1933 Homecoming Game against Ithaca may come to Coach Carl A. "Chugger" Davis' mind today. In that year the Bombers also came to play Cortland with one of their finest teams.

Ithaca possessed a stout defense and potent attack as it does this season, but the Davismen held the visiting powerhouse to a 6-6 deadlock.

Once again the Bombers are loaded with talent. Fleet-footed halfback Perry Noun ranked fourth in rushing in the Northern Division of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, before the 46-6 rout of King's College last Saturday. Quarterback Bob Ryan was fifth in total offense and fifth in punting; Dick Carmean, right halfback, fifth in pass receiving.

As a team the Bombers were tops in punting, first in total defense and also in rushing defense. Ithaca has two platoons with an all-letterman starting eleven.

The visiting Ithacans will have two goals in mind when they take the field this afternoon . . . prestige and revenge. They want to continue their unbeaten and untied record and also avenge the 32-13 setback received from the Dragons last season.

While the Bombers have been gems of consistency in knocking over Wilkes, 27-0; East Stroudsburg, 14-6; Brockport, 22-8 and King's, 44-6, the Dragons have been up and down.

As the old story goes . . . when they were good they were very good, but when they were bad, they were horrid.

Against Alfred, whom they beat 36-0, the Dragons were at times good and at other times jush blah. Against Buffalo, who beat them 7-6, the Dragons were mostly superb and with a "break" here and there would have sent the Bulls home as victims.

At Bloomsburg, the Dragons were mostly inept, at least for the first half. The Red and White outplayed the Huskies in the second half, but even then the scoring opportunities were frittered away.

Bloomsburg has a fast and eager team. It struck early, held on late and let the Dragons beat themselves.

Today is another Saturday and the Dragons have another opportunity to demonstrate the potential that they have occasionally shown.

Off his showing against Bloomsburg, Fullback Tom Major has earned a starting berth again today over the injured Joe Cuzzo. Major was one of the bright spots in the Cortland lineup last Saturday.

Also expected to see lots of action this afternoon is Fullback Art Smith, the team's leading ground gainer. The 206-pound senior has ground out 229 yards and passed another 18 for a touchdown.

Following the Ithaca game today the Dragons take to the road for the next two Saturdays before the final game of the season here at College Field on November 8.

They travel next Saturday to Hempstead to meet the powerful Flying Dutchmen of Hofstra College looking for their second victory in the seventh game of the series with the Long Island College.

Two weeks from today the Davismen go north to Brockport to preserve an unbeaten record in nine games against the Golden Eagles.

The 1958 gridiron campaign concludes on November 8 when Cortland's oldest rival, East Stroudsburg comes to town for the finale. The game will be the 28th renewal of a series that started in 1925.

The Coaching Staff

Davis

Weber

Wallace

Carl "Chugger" Davis begins his 24th year as Cortland State head football coach possessing one of the outstanding records in small college grid-iron circles. His overall record is close to the .500 mark and he ranks 13th in the country in years of service. After Coach Davis took charge in 1932 his teams lost only two games through the 1936 season. Since then Chugger has had four seasons, 1942, 1948, 1955 and 1957, when the Red Dragons suffered only one setback. Davis was graduated from Springfield (Mo.) College and took graduate work at Springfield (Mass.) College before starting his coaching career. An outstanding scholastic and collegiate athlete, he still keeps himself in top physical condition. His nickname grew out of an admonition he frequently used for his players, "Keep chuggin' in there." Chugger is also the golf coach, giving up baseball this spring after guiding that sport and basketball many years.

Dr. Robert Weber, Director of Athletics, also brings plenty of experience to his post as line coach. Now in his seventh year at Cortland, Weber played center at the University of Iowa and on service teams. After graduation from Iowa, he coached and taught in the Iowa public schools and at his alma mater. His last two scholastic teams lost only one game and won the conference championship. His success with the Cortland line coaching duties is aptly demonstrated by the reputation of Cortland's defensive ability. Last year's forward wall was particularly stingy, giving up only an average of nine points per game.

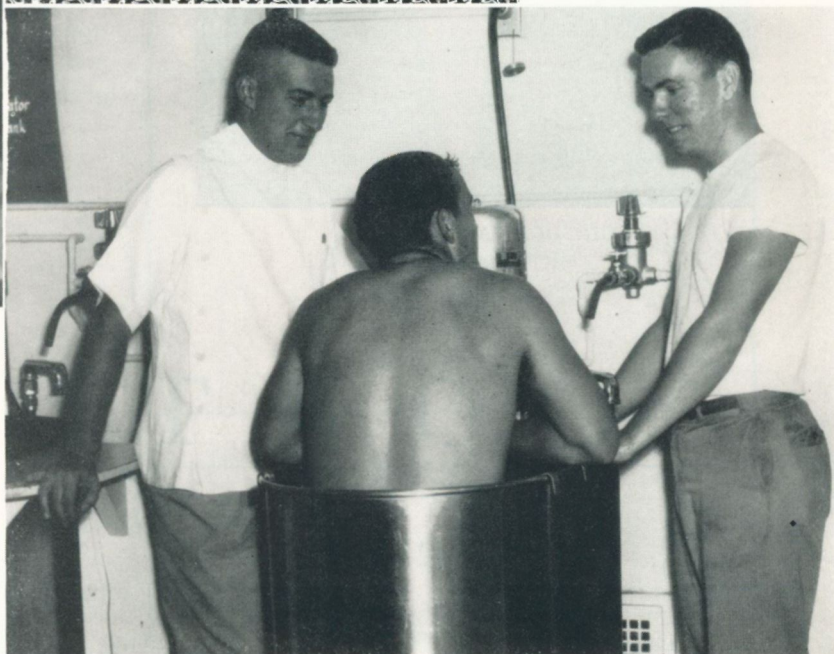

Robert Wallace, a Cortland graduate and youngest member of the Red and White staff, handles the backfield. He is well qualified for this assignment as one of the outstanding quarterbacks to play for Cortland. After graduation he became football coach at Painted Post High School where he guided two successive teams to championships. He joined his alma mater's physical education staff in 1956. He subbed for Whitey Corey as varsity basketball coach last winter and next spring will take over the varsity baseball coaching chores. On the opposite page is Albert Watrel, who starts his fifth season as junior varsity football coach. The Syracuse University graduate directed his jayvee gridders to an undefeated season last year. Watrel played football for such well-known football coaches as Biggie Munn, Forest Evasheski and Floyd Swartzwalder. Al taught and coached at Syracuse and in Florida before coming to Cortland, where he teaches chemistry, anatomy and physiology.

Absent from last year's coaching staff are Anthony Tesori, now field coordinator for the college, and Fran Woods, who is coaching junior varsity soccer. Tesori, also a Cortland graduate, drilled the ends on last year's squad, a position he played here for Coach Davis. He also was a stand-out basketball player and coached basketball and golf. Woods, assistant jayvee coach last season, was freshman football coach at Utica Free Academy after graduation from Cortland.

Autumn, college, and football are traditionally American. The season is the time of year, the institution an important time in life, and the game an opportunity in sportsmanship. To be sure the objective is a victory and all of us like to win. But the important thing is learning, in this game as in the game of life, that victory comes only through hard work and sacrifice. It is perhaps too easy for those of us who are spectators at college athletic events to think of the entertainment provided. Actually, however, intercollegiate athletics provides opportunity to learn and grow and it is to that purpose this college dedicates another fall sports program.

C O R T L A N D

The diversity of sports offered in the program of physical education at this College provides an unusual opportunity for students, both as participants and spectators. We are proud that the student body approves and supports an array of some dozen or more intercollegiate teams.

Football as a definite part of Cortland's educational program is no more or no less important than any other sport or offering of the College. Our players receive no special consideration in their academic programs, or is there any form of athletic scholarship available to them.

You are seeing football in an ideal and proper setting in the educational program of a college. You are viewing players who want to play and who receive as their only remuneration the satisfaction and enjoyment of playing in this great fall sport.

Review of 1958 Intercollegiate Rules Changes

Here are the more important changes that should interest intercollegiate football fans:

1. The scoring for a successful try for a score following a touchdown has been changed. As in the past, if the ball is kicked successfully one point is scored. Added to this rule, if the offensive team chooses to run or pass, two points are awarded if the play is successful. Another change involves the yard line from which the try after touchdown is made. Last year, all extra points were attempted from the two yard line. This year all attempts will be made from the three yard line.

2. Last year, each team was permitted five time-outs per half. The 1958 rule has been changed to read as follows: Each team is entitled to four free time-outs during each half without penalty. Consecutive free time-outs shall not be allowed the same team. Otherwise, if the ball is dead and a team has not exhausted its four free time-outs the Referee shall allow a free time-out and charge that team: a) Only when requested by its Field Captain, or b) When an eligible substitute enters the field while the game clock is running.

3. Substitution — A player is eligible to re-enter the game except that after a player is withdrawn he is ineligible to return until at least one down has intervened.

4. Offensive blocking — A teammate of a Runner or Passer may use only one hand or forearm in blocking or to supplement a shoulder or chest block. The hand must be in contact with the blocker's body and the hand and arm must be kept below the shoulders of the opponent throughout the entire block. In a crab or body block it is not required that the hand or arm be in contact with the body. In no block may the hands be locked.

5. Forward pass interference — Forward pass interference regulations are effective whether or not the pass crosses Team A's scrimmage line. Interference by Team A players is prohibited from the time the ball is snapped until the pass is touched by any player. Interference by Team B players is prohibited from the time the pass is made until it is touched by any player.

6. Ineligible receivers — When the ball is snapped, ineligible receivers may charge into opponents and drive them back provided contact is established at a point which is not more than one yard beyond the neutral zone but if contact is lost such ineligible receivers must remain stationary at that spot until the pass is thrown. Otherwise, no player who was an ineligible receiver at the snap shall be beyond the neutral zone until a legal forward pass is thrown.

7. Unsportsmanlike Conduct — No player of the team on defense shall use words or signals which obviously disconcert opponents when they are preparing to put the ball in play.

HALL OF FAME

You will have an opportunity today to give your support to the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. Its primary objective is to support amateur football throughout the country. When the collection is taken, please do your part.

A NOBLE CAUSE IS AT STAKE

We hold these things important:

The National Football Foundation joins together for the first time many official voices in one. We are dedicated to serving today's game, concerning ourselves in the best sense with the public relations of the institution of amateur football — acting as a respected spokesman of national influence.

We hold that home and church develop character, teach manners and morals. Our schools and colleges teach the lessons of life. They do so in two places — the classroom and the field of competitive sport. We believe BOTH are important.

Our purpose in honoring the heroes of the past in the Hall of Fame is to remind our youth and all of our people through great historical exhibits and through print and over the air that there shall be no softening of our fibre as we face the task of world leadership. There should be clear recognition of the qualities developed through sport, of which amateur football is our finest example.

Too, we hold and will spread understanding of the helping effort our college presidents are assuming in shouldering their part of the responsibility to see that the game is conducted off the field with the same integrity that is demanded and delivered by students on the field.

Finally, we hold that the game shall not be de-emphasized; that the same standards of competitive excellence be held high on the field of sport as are held in the classroom. And we will support the increasing demands for excellence in our educational structure. Football should continue to be a VITAL focus of general undergraduate and alumni interest.

Brains without competitive hearts may be rudderless.
