Come Grow with Taproot

Do you love the outdoors? Are you a professional educator who teaches for, in, or about the natural world?

Explore Taproot . . .

Inside each issue, you'll find:

Resources: Taproot is known for its lengthy and comprehensive Resource section. You'll find a listing of close to 100 new resources with every issue, everything from audio-visual supplies and curriculum guides, to newsletters and special reports. You won't find that anywhere else.

Features: "Virtual Reality vs. Real Experience", "Educational Gardening" every issue of Taproot will go into depth with several feature articles. Regular topics include ethics, current trends and new philosophies of outdoor education.

News Briefs: "Pepper Spray Attracts Bear," "Landowners and Fishing Rights," "Trees Expand with the Tides," are just a few examples of the headlines you'll find in our News section. The news briefs you will find in Taproot will make you smile, think, question, and laugh. From serious national issues to curiosities of nature, you won't be able to put it down.

Professional Development: We will keep your career moving with a comprehensive listing of conferences, workshops, clinics, and grants, and an easy reference calendar of events and organizations.

What do professionals say about Taproot?

"Taproot is a valuable source of information for professionals and those preparing to be professionals in outdoor education."

Dr. Leo H. McAvoy
Chair, Division of Recreation and Leisure Studies
University of Minnesota

"One of the most complete outdoor education newsletters available...Excellent resource."

Dr. Camille Bunting
Director, Outdoor Education Institute
Texas A&M University

"Taproot is outstanding and offers a refreshing perspective to the field."

Jennifer Rigby
Acorn Naturalist, Tustin, CA
